

The Keys To Making Good Decisions

1. Identify the decision to be made and the objectives or outcome you want to achieve.
2. Gather as many facts and as much information you can to assess your options.
3. Come up with several possible choices that are compatible with your values, interests and abilities.
4. Consider possible outcomes, namely what's the worst that can happen? The consequences?
5. Prioritize which considerations are very important to you, and which are not so important.
6. Ask for opinions and feedback from those you trust or have had similar situations.
7. Make a good decision, trust in God and monitor your results. Avoid second guessing.

Points To Consider & Remember

There are no guarantees. Certainly you can never know in advance whether a decision will be correct, therefore, you must be prepared to THINK before taking risks.

Look for the opportunities. If you make a mistake, view it as an opportunity to learn what didn't work and why. Many times decisions are reversible and you can change your mind.

"Hindsight is 20/20." Another way of saying second guessing yourself after you know more info. This can stall your decision-making process. You could miss out on important opportunities.

"Getting stuck in the mud." If you've done everything you can to make a good decision, do not delay making a good decision for fear that you don't know enough or will make the wrong choice.

Don't let fear stop you. Sometimes people become so paralyzed with the fear of making a wrong decision they panic and lose sight of what they're trying to accomplish.

Pray & Ask God for guidance. Then make the decision, and trust in God to see you through.
